Look at the information in Exercise 1. Is she a typical lottery winner?

Lottery couple are not changing their winning lifestyle!

Designer clothes? A luxury home? Jill Summers, 28, doesn't want these things. She says her lottery win of £2m isn't going to change her life.

Jill and her husband Derrick, 30, live and work on a farm in Ashford, south-east England. They get up at 4:30 am, seven days a week, 365 days a year.

'We're not stopping now, just because we've had some good luck,' says Jill. She and Derrick say they aren't leaving the family home. 'We're very happy here,' says the lucky Mrs. Summers.

Next month the couple are going on their first holiday for eight years. 'We're travelling around Asia and Australia for a few months,' says Derrick. And what about the business? 'We're paying someone to look after the farm. For the first time in eight years.'

And what else are they doing with the money? 'Well, tomorrow we're picking up our new car. And next week we're having a big party for all our friends and family. We're giving 10% of the money to charity. But we aren't planning any big changes.'

And does she still play the lottery? 'Why not, some of the money goes to good causes.'
